WHERE THE DIFFERENCE COMES IN. intelligent Tailoring! Do you recognize the full significance of that phrase? It means "brains at the helm"—egotistical perhaps, but "expressive" nevertheless. It means intelligent buying, good taste in choosing, tact in selecting help, moral courage to acknowledge it doesn't fit—if it doesn't, and liberal minded enough to give you another suit, pair of trousers or overcoat for the misfit or allow a proper rebate if you can use the garments. Thanks to our intelligent tailoring, these questions rarely arise. What about a Black Ontaway Coat (cut long) of Martin's Worsted for $25? G. WARFIELD SIMPSON, Intelligent Tailor,

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Comorrow's Gold Demand for Export May Require a Definite Settlement of the Gov-

Financial circles have been calling for a statement from Secretary Carlisle of his position and his intentions regarding the gold situation. The statement published elsewhere was given out last night, but there is no one who is willing their offices. to say that he can tell from it what the policy of the administration will be. Ite meaning would be plainer if it carried with it a definition of the words "goid lawfully available for the purpose of redeeming treasury notes in gold." Without the knowledge of Mr. Carlisle's interpretation of this phrase the announcement does not in any way outline what steps the government intends to take and is regarded as nothing more than an appeal to western bankers and patriotic citizens to come forward with what means they control to aid the Secretary of the Treasury.

If the published report of the amount of gold needed for export tomorrow be true it will be unnecessary for any one to speculate on the policy of the treasury as the crisis will have arrived and been met. According to Mr. Carlisle's statement, there is in the treasury $800,000 of free gold. According to the reports over $3,000,000 will be wanted for export. Unless the bankers come to the assistance of the treasury the payment of gold for the treasury notes of 1890 will have to be stopped or the gold reserve utilized to meet the demand. The financial situation was a serious topic of discussion at the cabinet meeting today and it was thought at the Treasury Department that consult him as to what arrangements should be made as to when, where and at what time the by this afternoon something more definite than the announcement of Mr. Carlisle will be

tion in Regard to Reciprocity. The impression is growing that the avowed purpose of the present administration of reforming our tariff system will find its first exposition in negotiations looking to important changes in existing commercial treaties with other countries, especially those in South America, with which we have established commercial reciprocity under the McKinley act. It is said with an air of knowledge that the system of reciprocity inaugurated by the last administration is to be entirely changed and that the reciprocity treaties now in force are to be abrogated at the earliest possible day consistent

TO ABROGATE RETALIATORY PROCLAMATIONS. One of the first steps in this direction will be the abrogation of the retaliatory proclamations against Venezuela, Haiti and Colombia, the only three countries of South America that refused our overtures in the direction of re-ciprocal trade relations. The discriminating duties now imposed on coffee, sugar, hides. &c., produced in those countries because of their refusal to establish favorable rates for United States manufactures will be removed and imports from those countries will be treated the same as imports from all other countries. In view of this determination it is only fair to assume that as the other South American countries will derive no special benefit from the existing reciprocal agreements they will offer no objection to their termination. It is contended that it would be manifestly unfair for the United States to impose restrictions only on the products of the countries that open their markets to our goods and put them on the same plane with countries that practically discriminate against us.

TO TERMINATE RECIPEOCITY TREATIES. It is therefore conceded that the prospective today added to the list of applicants on file for zuela, Haiti and Colombia will be speedily fol-the position of collector of customs at New lowed by the termination of the special recip-rocal trade arrangements with other foreign countries, the effect of which is simply a recountries, the effect of which is simply a return to the trade conditions existing prior to the consummation of the reciprocity treaties.

The importance of this matter is fully recognized by the President and the Secretary of State and each step will be taken with the greatest deliberation and it may be several months before the plan takes shape sufficient for public announcement. In the meanwhile it is an open secret that negotiations are now in progress for the resumption of former trade relations with Venezuela, Haiting and Colombia and the abrogation of the reformer trade relations with Venezuela, Haiti and Colombis and the abrogation of the reciprocity treaties with Brazil and with Spain for Cuba and Porto Rico. The alleged reason for this radical change of policy is that "reciprocity as at present constituted is a failure."

No information on this subject can be obtained from Secretary Gresham or other of-ficials of the State Department, but from other sources of unquestioned reliability it is ascer-tained that there is substantial foundation for the current reports as above outlined.

BASE BALL PASSES. The President and Members of the Cabin

The President and his cabinet have be given season passes to the base ball games and promised good seats if they will come. Col. Nick Young, president of the league, called at the White House this morning and handed Private Secretary Thurber coupon books for himself, the President and each member of the cabinet. Mr. Thurber accepted with thanks and promised to use his book if the others didn't.

President Harrison and Secretary Charles Foster frequently attended the base ball games last summer, and Uncle Jerry Rusk, Secretary of Agriculture, would sit on the "bleachers" and shout as loud as any one when a home run was made.

It is urged that, as good democrats, the members of this administration must precedent set and attend the games.

IT SAVED A SHIPWRECKED CREW. The Life-Saving Station for the World's

One of the interesting exhibits at the world's fair under the Treasury Department is a fully equipped life-saving station. The station has on the lakes. Superintendent Kimball has received a telegram to the effect that the station rescued ten almost famished men station rescued ten almost famished men from a three-masted schooner. The experience was a thrilling one, the lifes-aving crew' boat being overturned in one of the attempts to reach the standed vessel. Thousands of persons were on the beach, and great enthusiasm prevailed when the rescue was made.

Superintendent Kimball is informed that the schooner Hattie S. Williams of Taunton, Mass., from Baltimore, Md., to Fall River, Mass., went ashore at Squan Beach, N. J., last night in the severe stofm. Her crew of ten men was saved in the breeches buoy.

The crew of seven men of the schooner Henry Congolum, from Boston to Nortell, Va., which stranded last night off Asbury Park, N. J., was also saved by the breeches buoy.

With the men rescued at Chicago last night by the exposition life-aving crew there this makes a total of twenty-seven lives mayed yesterday by the United State life-aving service.

In connection with the escape of the two condemned murderers Rohl and Pallister It leaked out this morning that a brother of Rohl arrived in this city about ten days ago from Germany with 97,000 which Rohl had inherited. The brother upon his arrival here called upon Goldberg 2 McLaughlin, the prisoner's counsel, and informed them he was going to Sing Sing. After a stay of a few days there he returned to this city, and said he would immediately return to Europe. He is believed to have remained in this country and assisted in his brother's escape.
